Get away from it all and feel right at home.

Just over the Conejo Pass, away from the crowds and hassles of Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley, there is Trailside Point, an established Mission Oaks neighborhood in a serene setting where the breeze is fresh, the sky is blue, and the people are friendly.

Surrounded by lofty mountains, country meadows, gently rolling hills—with acres of colorful wildflowers and rows of citrus trees—Trailside Point homes have been carefully designed to be at one with the Mission Oaks environment. Rich warm wood is used both structurally and decoratively. Large view windows bathe rooms in natural light. Homes are set back on lots to allow a spacious, private feeling.

Four different exterior designs are available for each of the four Trailside Point floorplans. They are designed to complement each other (creating a unified neighborhood look), yet allow you to express your individuality.

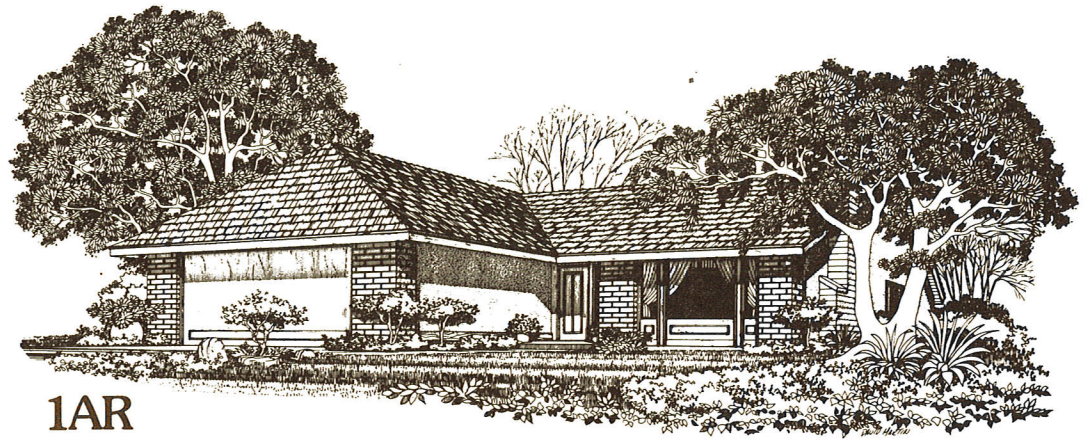

The mood is one of spacious beauty, dramatically proportioned to achieve a remarkable unity with the countryside and with the needs of family living.
